

OPERATION EXPOSE META
#OPEXPOSEMETA

CALL TO ACTION FACEBOOK & INSTAGRAM USERS

Facebook (Meta) and Instagram are at the receiving end of a lawsuit for allowing child sexual exploitation on their platforms and still have not fixed their content filtering algorithm, even after being grilled at the Jan. 31st US Senate hearing.

FACTUAL RESUME

On Wednesday, December 6, 2023, Mark Zuckerberg and Facebook, Inc. were served a lawsuit brought by Mr. Raúl Torrez, the Attorney General of New Mexico, exposed in the lawsuit the scope of Facebook (Meta) and its sister company Instagram for allowing its social media platforms to become marketplaces for child predators.

His office launched a year-long investigation, gathering a wealth of evidence that Meta's algorithms are connecting underage children with child sexual abuse material (CSAM), and exposing them to sex trafficking, pornography, and putting them in the cross-hairs of pedophiles.

In other words, Meta's platforms are operating the "single largest marketplace for predators pedophiles globally" says the New Mexico Attorney General. This is why sexual predators against children feel comfortable using Meta's platforms.

WHAT CAN CAN DO

1. Link our information page on Facebook, and across social media.
2. Use hashtags #OpExposeMeta, #OpChildSafety #OpSafeKids
3. Contact your local media and government representatives about this global issue targeting children.

Together, we can make a difference and hold big tech accountable.